MUSICOLOGY

Course

The Foundation Year prepares students for admission to Conservatory degree programmes, helping them strengthen their musical knowledge, refine their instrumental or vocal technique, and develop the skills needed for further studies in music at an academic level.

For 2027/2028, specialisations include piano, violin, cello, guitar, voice, harp, flute, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet and various jazz instruments.

Content

Students attend individual and group lessons covering:

- Main instrument or voice
- Music theory, rhythm and ear training
- Harmony and musical analysis
- Music history and piano practice

Optional activities include orchestra, chamber music, choir and jazz ensembles. Students can also gain stage experience through concerts, festivals, masterclasses and work with professional musicians.

Admission: practical performance test and theory test (music, harmony and rhythm).
